Boutique Accommodation

Nestled in the heart of Waterford City, The Granville Hotel is a blend of history, elegance, and modern comfort. As a beautifully restored 18th-century manor home, our 98 individually designed bedrooms reflect the timeless charm of the building's original architecture, featuring handpicked fabrics, unique antiques, and bespoke furnishings.

Whether you're visiting for business or pleasure, our hotel provides a warm and welcoming atmosphere, perfect for a memorable stay in Ireland's oldest city.

We look forward to welcoming you, where history meets modern convenience.

Enjoy Downtime

It can't be just all work and no play so speak to our team about the attractions in Waterford City. Our perfect city centre location gives you a lot of options for your down time and our team has some great connections!

Whether is axe throwing, immersive museums exploring our coasts or a round of golf, we can point you in the right direction. If you prefer to keep things on site, use our Conferencing Suites for remote team building activities.

Tailored Dining

Food is served daily in the Thomas Francis Meagher Bar and the Bianconi Restaurant in the Granville Hotel, both named after figures who brought so much history to the hotel. Private dining is available in one of the Bianconi Restaurant's rooms or in the Trinity Suite.

Our menus are designed by our Head Chef Stephen Hooper and Food Development Chef James Crawford. They can tailor your menu to help facilitate your unique event.
